WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 4.

A man had a fit yesterday on the corner of Main and the avenue.

The city contractor and builder, who so suddenly disappeared some weeks ago, has returned.

Many colored men were challenged at the polls Tuesday, some of them being residents of the city for years. This looks rather small to say the least.

A woman tendered her vote at the Fourth ward precinct Tuesday and received the usual refusal. The ladies are quite persistent at any rate on the subject of franchise.

Two plain drinks was the great rush of business at the police court Tuesday. They were dead heads, therefore there was not enough cash taken in to defray current expenses.

Dan Parks found a brown canvas value in a box car of the Southern road at this city. There are certain initials on it, and Dan says anyone who can describe the initials and tell him where to find it.

Mr. Search opened his restaurant in Stuyvesant's new building, Douglas avenue, Tuesday, to catch part of the trade of the people who came to the election. He has not got all fixed up yet, but will be in full shape in a few days.

The new addition to the City hotel will be ready for occupancy next week. The proprietors intend furnishing it in first-class style. When it is all fixed up completely and furnished, it will compare favorably with any house in the city.

A commodious addition has been built to the residence of Judge Hill, on the corner of Lawrence avenue and Third street. We understand that it is the intention of Mrs. Hill to take a limited number of boarders. Those who succeed in getting located in this new and first-class boarding house will indeed be fortunate.

We were pleased to see Mr. Henry Israel on the street yesterday. He has been down with malaria fever for the last eight weeks. He was living in Kingston when he was taken sick. Two other young men who took sick at the same time with the same disease have since died.

The faces of defeated candidates were so long yesterday that the barbers thought it more than right to charge them twenty-five cents for a shave; they can console themselves in view of the fact that their heads have been shaved for ten cents.

W. A. Rieley is fitting up the little building in the rear of W. W. Hill's place of business for a sleeping room for one of his guests. It has been newly shingled, weatherboarded and painted a beautiful light green color on the inside. It will be richly carpeted and neatly furnished and will be one of the most cozy little rooms in the city.

Talk about a free ballot and a fair count! We heard that four Belva Lockwood electors were bulldozed out of their votes, Tuesday, at the Third ward. It is too bad that full grown Americans should be so perfectly willing to exercise the franchise, were ruthlessly set aside. It is doubtful if Belva will ever get there unless she can get a new set of supervisors of election.

The doors of a new restaurant were Tuesday morning open to the public. In the "Douglas avenue block," a new, large room has been arranged with the necessary furniture to fit for a very nice and complete place in which to get regular boarders or meals to order. Several nice furnished rooms are kept in connection with this new hostelry. Mr. L. D. Search has added to the city a restaurant of credit to himself and satisfaction to the public.

Mrs. Brooks is running an elegant boarding house in the Goodview block on Emporia avenue. Several very fine furnished rooms and restaurants have been opened in the city recently, and now good accommodations can be had at reasonable rates.

A good deal of complaint has been made in this connection during the past year, it being impossible at times to get a bed in the city.

Never in the history of this or any other city has an election passed off so quietly as that of Tuesday. Everything went as smoothly as clock work. Not an angry word was spoken and the utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed throughout the day and at night. From the opening to the closing of the polls a large crowd surrounded each polling booth, but not a sign of quarrel nor an angry word occurred.

The Angers folk got a bad scare Tuesday night. There was a large crowd gathered in the room that the upper floor was partly gone, shaking about one foot. The floor of the 4th, A. K. Hall and the 5th floor were crowded with people, all coming into the East office which was densely packed, with a crowd of anxious people listening to the reading of the dispatches.

Yesterday morning two tramps succeeded in getting away with a pair of boots from the front of Israel's store, on Douglas avenue. Subsequently they were seen in an alley trying the shoes on. Dan Parks was put on their track with instructions to watch them, expecting to catch them at some other thieving act. These two tramps were evidently not aware that this city is getting to be hot for tramps and thieves, and they would have done it a healthy place for such as them.

A new plot of eighty acres of ground known as the "Chautauque addition to Wichita," has just been laid out and placed upon the market for sale. This property is a piece of land, lying high with a slope, on the city side of College hill, and on the north side of Douglas street, and was eighty acres in the piece, and though the books were just opened two or three days ago, the property has already been disposed of and have passed into second hands. This would seem to indicate a prime demand for this section of the city.

Many of our weather chasers have secured building places on or near College hill, and the city is becoming long that will be the "Murray Hill" of our city.

From a reliable source it is learned that a project is on foot to extend the line of street car tracks south to Lawrence avenue to Zimmerman's addition. It is proposed to push this enterprise so that on or before January 1st, 1885, the line will be running to a point a quarter of a mile south of the W. & W. railroad at its junction with Lawrence avenue. This will be a very great convenience to the residents of all that section of the city and will, besides, enhance the value of lots and property in that vicinity and especially that which is the case with the line joining the quarter adjacent to the line of road. That quarter section at present to be one of the favorite building localities of the city, and this road will no doubt give it a big boom.

During the last two nights and yesterday, a city has been in a fever of exciting expectancy awaiting the election returns. Immediately after the returns began to come in, the Eagle office and the Republican headquarters, also the Beacon office and Democratic headquarters, were packed so full of anxious people that danger of breaking through the floor was apprehended. As the dispatches were read indicating favorable returns for one party, their headquarters rang with cheers and voices. A considerable number hung about the Eagle office until a 6 o'clock yesterday morning, and at that time the prospect for the Republican looked blue. At about 8 a. m. the dispatches began to come in, and that part of Douglas avenue between the Eagle and Beacon offices began to fill up with people and first one and then the other had their turn upon the "ragged tree." They till now the Republicans kept rather shady, but about 2 p. m. returns favorable to their side began to come in. The Eagle felt the Eagle felt that he could face the music. A bulletin board was set up in front of the Eagle office, the Beacon office and the Republican headquarters at the Beacon office and looked down at the Democrats collected on the opposite side of the street with the Beacon office. From that hour until five p. m., the street was packed so full that it was difficult for the street cars and other vehicles to pass. This state of things continued until about six, when everybody made a break for supper. This glock received a bright for the Republicans at that time that they began to take even bets. About 7:30 the crowd began to gather again, but returned in so slowly that both parties felt a little shaky, the Republicans having the best heart.

A new customer for groceries arrived at the residence of Mr. H. W. of the Wichita wholesale grocer, the Clompany, Monday evening. We are informed that the new arrival will be named Belva.
